No spaghetti strap tank tops, tight-fitting tops, or bare midriff tops. We recognize the importance of modest appearance in showing respect for each other and to God in how we dress and act.

We do not encourage visits or phone calls because this can cause your child to become homesick and then want to go home. Should you have a concern about your child, please call us at (828)632-2987. We can let you speak with your child’s counselor and/or the director at camp to see how your child is doing. If for some reason you need to pick your child up early from camp, please let us know at check-in and check by the office when you come to pick him/her up.

We encourage you to send mail to your child. Send mail to Hickory Cove Bible Camp, 170 Ferguson Lane, Taylorsville, NC 28681. Should your child receive three letters in one day, he/she will be encouraged to sing a song at lunch, which is a tradition at camp. Please Note – emails will not be counted towards the “singing” privilege. We ask that emails be limited as the number can tax our office staff.
